

Quebec Grants $1,500,000

Powell Expresses Thanks As Fund Nears Goal

R. E. Powell, general chairman of the McGill fund which is currently trying to raise 6 million dollars said that Premier Maurice Duplessis has announced that the Province of Quebec will grant a total of $1,500,000 to the fund.

Mr. Powell, the President of the Aluminum Company of Canada, said, "The splendid gift will be a great help to our university coming as it does at a time when an extra effort is being made to close up this campaign." He added, "We are hoping for a 'little extra' in this drive in order to meet increasing construction costs. The interests of the Provincial Government has won the whole-hearted thanks of McGill."

DR. JAMES

Dr. F. Cyril James had this to say about the donation. "It becomes increasingly clear that McGill will need more than the six million dollars we originally estimated, if it is to complete the building projects that are planned. I should like to endorse the warm thanks of Mr. R. E. Powell as already expressed to the government of the Province of Quebec for its contribution of $1,500,000 which will greatly help us in an effort to reach our objective."

Not counting the gift from the Province of Quebec, a new total of $3,927,300 of gifts and pledges from the public was announced by officials of the McGill Fund, representing a weekend gain of $168,377 towards the fund's minimum goal of six million. Including the gift, the total is now $5,427,300.

The campaign's current clean-up period will close Monday, Nov. 19, when campaign results will be announced at a final reports meeting at 5.15 pm in McGill's Redpath Hall, following a buffet supper. Invitations to the final meeting are being mailed this week to 500 volunteer workers.

LAVAL WELCHES

Morrie Shohet, McGill's Students' Society President, and Adelbert Huard, Laval's counterpart, will not meet with Duplessis tomorrow as was originally scheduled. They were to discuss the financial problems of Quebec universities.

Huard was supposed to make an appointment with the Premier. Instead he has decided to negotiate on his own and only about the problems of Laval. He says that he does not want the issue confused with politics and that he has nothing against Duplessis. He believes that the current opinion of the Laval student body is not to accept both Provincial and Federal aid but to work in co-operation with the Provincial Government to solve its problems.

Shohet last night stated, "Laval's decision to plead its own personal grievance independently of the other universities represents a breach of trust placed in its undergraduate leaders by the other student presidents. It had committed itself to united action on the part of all students in the Province. It is hoped that the present diversity will not be the cause of any irreparable harm towards a satisfactory solution of the controversy."

The U of M is presenting the issue to its council tonight. If they pass the resolution concrete steps will be taken to make an appointment with Duplessis. If it is not passed a meeting with the Premier will be out of the question.

Eruptions On Two Fronts

Middle East

JERUSALEM, Oct. 29. (UP) — Israeli troops invaded Egypt today and struck 81 miles into Egyptian territory before digging in almost within striking distance of the Suez Canal.

An Israeli military communique announced that the Israeli forces jumped off from the border near the Egyptian town of El Kuntilla.

They swept through the hot Sinai desert and rugged hills along the edge of the Et Tih Plateau, attacking Egyptian "Suicide Commando" bases along the way.

The communique said the invading force had dug in west of the major road junction at Nekhl, halfway to Suez at the southern entrance to the vital waterway.

Israeli press briefing officers hinted the Israeli advance guard may have approached to within 19 miles of Suez.

A high Israeli source denied that the attack was in reprisal for Egyptian-sponsored Arab Commando attacks.

"It is too large an operation to be described as reprisal," he said. "Nor is this war," he added. "This is too small an operation for war. There is no bombing and no artillery."

Asked whether the Israeli army would continue to occupy the Sinai Desert, a high source said only "That will depend on developments."

He pointed out that a large part of the Egyptian army was now in the Sinai Desert with modern Russian tanks.

Hungary

By Franz Cyrus

United Press Staff Correspondent

VIENNA, Oct. 29. (UP) — Hungarian rebels tonight rejected the communist government's turn-about, Moscow-dictated, ultimatum to surrender.

In the heart of scarred and hungry downtown Budapest, 2,000 rebels held out in killian barracks against a ring of Soviet tanks, field guns and mortars. Outside the city, the rebel radio continued its defiant broadcasts.

United Press correspondent Anthony Cavendish witnessed the Soviet siege of Killian barracks from a sheltered nearby doorway. He reported that burned and smashed Soviet equipment littered the battleground surrounding the barracks. He said a freedom fighter told him the men inside the barracks will die before surrendering.

He said the Russians had not yet launched an all-out attack but as he watched, machine guns were beating their tattoo under the heavy fire of cannon and the dull thump of Russian mortars.

Today the government of Premier Imre Nagy, with an accompanying announcement from Moscow, reneged on its promise that all Soviet forces were evacuating the capital.

Instead, it said some Soviet forces would remain until 24 hours after the last insurgents had surrendered their arms.

A total of 369 pints of blood was collected yesterday at the opening day of the Blood Clinic. This total is 30 more than was collected last year at the same time, but it should be remembered that the Clinic last year lasted for 7 days. This total for the day must be improved upon if we hope to reach our objective of 2200 pints.

Concerning competition between the three undergraduate faculties, the breakdown is as follows:

Faculty of Commerce	41 pints	9.7%
Faculty of Engineering	115 pints	9.4%
Faculty of Arts & Science	135 pints	8.75%

There is a rather large spread among the other faculties who are trailing quite badly stretching from Law with 12 pints donated to Dentistry and most of the smaller faculties who have not given anything yet.

In the residences: at RVC, the west wing (11.7%) is leading main (9.1%) and east (8%) wings; and Douglas Hall is leading Wilson Hall 9.6% — 8.0%.

CBC photographers were present yesterday morning to watch Dr. C. D. Solin mark his birthday by officially opening the clinic and donate the first pint of blood.

One does not need an appointment to give BLOOD!

Samuel To Discuss Toynbee vs Jewry

A critical appraisal of Toynbee's views of the Jews will be given today in the Union Ballroom by Mr. Maurice Samuel, the noted author, publicist and translator.

Professor Arnold J. Toynbee's theories, developed in his "A Study of History", have received wide popularization. Of particular interest to the Jews is Toynbee's characterization of Jews as a "fossilized relic of Syriac civilization", and his remarks on Zionism and Israel.

Maurice Samuel's latest book "The Professor and the Fossil", is a careful examination of Toynbee's theories. Vigorously challenged by Mr. Samuel are the bias, inaccuracies, omissions, and distortions about the Jewish people and Jewish history occurring throughout Prof. Toynbee's much-acclaimed history. The New York Times Book Review comments that "The Professor and the Fossil" revives a type of con-

STANDING ALONE

Yesterday the news was released that Mr. Duplessis has promised $1,500,000 to the McGill Fund. The noise that Laval created has died down, the window panes in the Provincial Legislature have been repaired, the reporter has got the tomato stains out of his hat, the Provincial Government has promised McGill some money, and all's well with the world. The whole tangled problem can now be dropped, and perhaps taken up again next time McGill needs money.

The stand of Laval has changed. Apparently they were only using the Federal offer as a lever to get more money from the Province. At Laval there are 1752, repeat 1752 students on Provincial scholarships. The Quebec government has given two and a half million dollars to their Medical School, over two million to their School of Commerce, a million to their School of Mining, and a Million and a half to their School of Sciences. Laval has now received a letter from Duplessis, the contents of which they have not divulge to other Quebec universities. But apparently they are satisfied with the terms. The Laval student President stated that they will not press for the demands for all the Quebec universities until they have settled their own affairs with the Provincial Government; he even doubted if the extremely mild petition drawn up last week would be presented to Duplessis — some of its clauses had "political" overtones.

McGill has been promised a million and a half dollars by the Provincial government. This does not put us in the same position as Laval. We cannot pocket the money and our principles. Duplessis' gift should be accepted with thanks. But because we accept Provincial aid, this should not deny us from accepting Federal aid. The University, even if it stands alone in Quebec, should continue to seek aid from any source including federal. Mr. Duplessis should remember the quotation about a gift to a university honouring the donor rather than the recipient.

Letters To The Editor

One Small Voice

Compared with the tremendous uproar of the last few days, my voice will sound small indeed, but perhaps the Daily will see fit to allow me to air views and blow off steam this way.

As a previous editorial so aptly put it, Mr. Duplessis is now using the universities as a political football. What his real motives and reasons are I do not know, but I hate to think that my suspicions are correct. On the surface he displays the attitude of a Quebec farmer who is naturally a chauvinist, not knowing any better. When he declares that education is a provincial matter, he may be right. But to say that universities come under the common name of "school", at best, is an acknowledgement of utter ignorance. Apparently he doesn't know what the word University means nor what universities stand for.

Just how the freedom of French traditions, culture and religion is threatened by English-speaking Canadians is beyond me — Canada has a French-speaking Prime Minister — For the sake of argument, let me accept the existence of such a threat. I would like to ask Mr. Duplessis: what could do more good to preserve these spiritual treasures than education at university level? Such education will a/extend scientific and cultural interest along with knowledge, with the result that more attention will be turned towards the French-Canadian accomplishments b/reduce the alienation of creeds and nationalities by bringing students together from all over the country and letting them work together in close comradeship.

From The Ivory Tower

Revolt Against State Of Siege

It is an understatement to remark that the entire World was shocked at yesterday's surprise attack that Israel sprung on Egypt. As this goes to press, reports (however exaggerated) have it that Israeli troops are within striking distance of the Suez Canal.

What we would like to emphasize right now is that any incident, no matter how crucial it may seem, can possibly be lifted out of the context of history and isolated from the events leading up to it. This is the deciding factor in the Israeli-Arab relationships of the

If any national community needed such strong points of "unity, fraternity and liberty", Quebec certainly does.

Any attempt to help such institutions must be regarded as the extension of a helping hand, no matter who is standing behind it, provided there are no secret strings attached to the gift. At any rate, to refuse such an offer unconditionally, on a false principle, as Mr. Duplessis did, indicates that he would refuse anything, any and all suggestions that will help Quebec to assume her proper duties and prerogatives in the Canadian unity. By doing so he rudely trampled into the sacred ground of the independence of all universities, that was respected by even such lowly mob as the hordes of the first Communist uprising in Hungary in 1919. How does he expect Quebec to have any friends left among the students who will have to put up with crowded classrooms and inadequate laboratories or even expect to have their numbers sorely limited? Of course he doesn't care: his political might is based not on a representative cross-section of the province but on a well-controlled minority and lopsided elective power distribution, together with a lack of powerful opposition. Any takers, Mr. J. D.?

Although universities throughout the world have always been above politics, more than one campus served as greenhouse for arisings and even wars against despots, crooked politicians or external enemy. Here again I should like to recall the heroism of the students of the Vienna and Budapest Universities in 1948, when they took to arms in a gallant bid for the freedom of the press and all nationalities of the Hapsburg Empire. The three universities of Budapest were the jumping-off points of many counter-revolutions during the Red regime after World War I, just like they are now. I am glad to see that Old McGill is not different in spirit; our love of freedom and justice is second to none. Petty little men like Mr. Duplessis can do little against such spirit even if he does have hundreds of policemen to keep us from reaching him. Perhaps one of these days the province will awaken, unite against him and his cohorts, replace them with someone who will be a true servant of the community and will allow Quebec to become free if integrated part of Canada.

last eight years — years of a perpetual and continuous state of irrevocable siege for Israel.

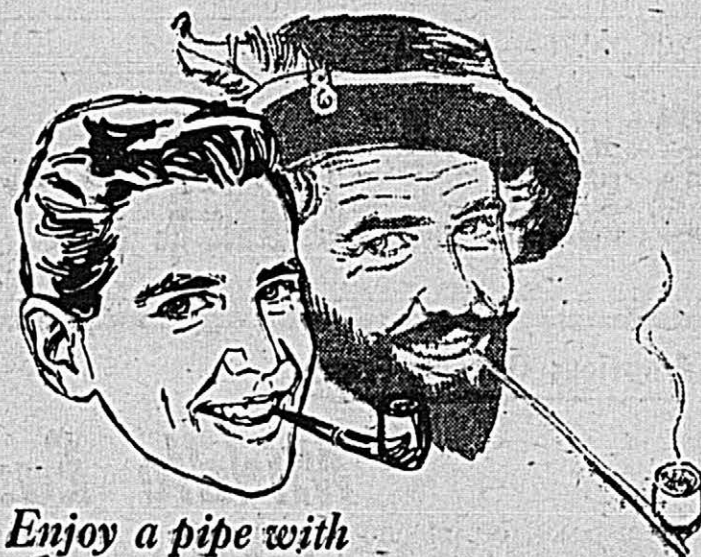

The Israelis felt that all overtures of peace had been summarily dismissed with silence and indifference by their Arab neighbours. Besides this the surrounding Arab nations have repeatedly vowed that they would not rest until Israel was destroyed.

This attack was the direct result of the cumulative effect of intense economic warfare, blockade, periodic aggressive forays into their lands, and heavy inflammatory propaganda — all of which created in Israel a feeling of intense frustration and downright fear about the continued existence of the country. Add to this the realization that the Arab states would continue to refuse to recognize the real political facts of the Middle East and it is not difficult to realize why Israel was driven to action.

It is unreasonable (at this date), however, to assume that a full-scale war is in progress. To invade Egypt is one thing, to hold it is another. What has happened is that Israel has embarked upon "a strong retaliation raid to wipe out Egyptian commando bases to prevent future Egyptian raids against Israel" — this is what authoritative sources said last night. In explaining Israel's mobilization, the sources said, "with Syria massing troops on Jordan's border, with Egypt's intensified commando raids against Israel, and with plans being made to place all the Arab states' troops under Egyptian command in advent of war, it is only natural that Israel would mobilize." People cannot stand a state of siege indefinitely.

In this "make peace or else" campaign, Israel has been working on the intrinsic principle that survival is the basic fact of foreign policy. We should remember that War is always potential as long as the Arab states consider Israel as the intruder in their midst. With arms not forthcoming from the great powers, Israel understands that her position is not in the long run defensible on the basis of the 1948 partition. With this realization upon her, the Israelis felt they had to either take action or face the almost certain contingency of being quite literally squeezed out of the entire area.

Senior, Inter Squads Swamp YMHA Poloists

By SONNY CYTRYNBAUM

Import two swimmers from the West Indies, induce a few Freshmen, add a bit of good defensive play, and a lot of practice, and you have a winning combination. This is exactly what happened at the Currie Pool to-night when both the Senior and Intermediate Polo squads defeated their respective Davis Y.M.H.A. opponents, 9-6 and 5-3.

The Inter squad dove into the pool at 8 p.m. and polished off their rivals in an hour. The team, coached by Jerry Shiller, a past poloist of renown, is the first organized McGill Inter-squad. In this the first exhibition game of the season, two newcomers to polo, Eric Magasanik and Jimmy McGowan were outstanding. Not only did they both get two goals apiece, but they also played in the Senior game which followed.

The Senior and "Y" squads scored fifteen goals in all during four quarters, though it was only 3-1 for the Red Seals at half time. The big guns for the Red and White Squad were Charlie Evelyn, who hails from somewhere in the West Indies, Bill Manning, and Bernie Toporowski. Evelyn, a fourth year Electrical Engineer, playing his second season with the team, threw for a grand total of four goals, the winning one among them. Toporowski who plays forward with Evelyn got two, while Bill Manning who also hails from the West Indies tallied twice. Manning also played a fine defensive game. Eric Magasanik, already a fine Inter tried his luck with the Seniors in this exhibition game and was credited with one goal. Ed Adelson, an experienced pool visitor put in one of his best defensive games.

At the end of the first period the Seniors were winning 2-1. They increased their lead to 3-1 at the end of the first half. In the third quarter the Redmen got real hot and put in five goals against one for the "Y". In the last quarter, the Blues got up some steam and tallied four times against McGill's singleton.

Unable to choose a single goaler from the three prospects available, coach Barry Thompson used them all. Ed Lewis, one of the three, did not allow any goals while he was in nets. The other goalers were Jim McGowan of the Inter, and John Chabral, last year's goalie, ineligible to play this year.

The club's next game is scheduled for this Thursday against the Snowdon Y.M.H.A. last year's Dominion finalists. The match will be held at 8 p.m. at the "Y" pool. During the season the Seniors will play a two game home and home total point series against Toronto, along with five more exhibition games.

MEN'S SKI TEAM

Training sessions for all persons interested in trying out for the Ski Team will begin tonight at 5 p.m. in the Gym.

STEWART TOPS IN COLLEGE SCORING

Halfback Ron Stewart of the high-flying Queen's Golden Gaels took over sole possession of the Intercollegiate loop by scoring a touchdown over the week-end in Queen's 20-15 victory over the Redmen. Stewart now has four touchdowns for 24 points.

Following behind him are teammate Al Kocman, Frank Loftus of Western and Tim Reid of Toronto. They are all tied for second slot with 18 points on the strength of three majors apiece.

Paul Dingle of McGill leads in field goals with two while Jocko Thompson of Queen's leads in converts with 5. Ross Woods of Toronto leads the singles department with 3. Scoring results follow:

	Td	C	Fg	S	Pts.
Stewart, Queen's	4	0	0	0	24
Kocman, Queen's	3	0	0	0	18
Loftus, Western	3	0	0	0	18
Reid, Toronto	3	0	0	0	18
Tuttle, Toronto	2	0	0	0	12
Riva, Toronto	2	0	0	0	12
Woods, Toronto	1	0	0	5	11
Thompson, Queen's	0	5	0	4	9
Dingle, McGill	0	2	2	0	8
Adrian, McGill	1	0	0	0	6

Student Reaction Re Israel

ARAB CLUB

Hisham Nashabi, President of the Arab Club at McGill, had the following comments on Israel's attack on Egypt.

"The attack is another proof of the aggressive policy Israel has been following all the way through. Now there will be no more doubt in the minds of my fellow students that Israel is the aggressor.

A distinction must be made between Israel and the Jews. We have nothing against the Jews. They live in our midst and we have nothing against them. Our quarrel is with Israel.

The Arabs have always chosen to make peace on a sound basis. This basis is to abide by the resolution made at the UN and signed by Israel. These include rectification of the boundaries, resettlement of Arab refugees and internationalization of Jerusalem. Israel has made no attempts toward these ends.

I hope Israel will not pursue this policy. It's dangerous not only to the Middle East but to the world as a whole. I hope the western democracies will now see the situation as it really exists.

"Suppose I come to you and give you a knock on the nose every day for quite a few days, wouldn't you at the end of a certain period of time get up and knock me out completely.

Egypt trains Fedayeen (suicide squads). Suicide squads are trained not just to blow up police stations but to kill civilians, women and children. To sit back and take the wait and see attitude will mean destruction.

I believe that these are defensive measures, a reprisal for former attacks to wipe out once and for all the basis for mauraders.
